PROCESS FOR STUDYING AWAY

Explaining the study away process for Semester-Long and May Term programs available at the University of Redlands.

The University of Redlands' process for studying away aims to give every undergraduate student an opportunity to have a significant international or domestic off-campus experience. We offer various type of programs in the following categories: Semester-Long and May Term.

This guide is meant to explain exactly how the process for studying away works and makes sure your student picks the right program for their goals/interests. In this volume of a Parent's Guide to Study Away, we will discuss the application process for studying away, program costs (including out of pocket costs), and information on some of our current program offerings.

APPLICATION PROCESS FOR STUDYING AWAY → SEMESTER-LONG

- 1 → Visit studyabroad.redlands.edu
